HOW THE TEAMS FINISHED IN NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE.

TEXAS FILLY HAS CHANCE TO REPEAT

Footlights Favorite Seems Ca pable of Capturing Handicap at Delmar To-Day.

BELLE S. TO WIN THE FIRST.

Grey Gelding Should Annex Last Event on Card for Mose Goldbiatt-Algonquin Looks Well in Second.

Footlights Favorite, that game little filly, owned by T. Gay & Co., seems to have an excellent chance of capturing another purse for her owners to-day. She is entered in the handicap at Delmar at a mile and a sixteenth.

While she has twelve more pounds to pack to-day than she had in the Meramec Stake Saturday, yet she seems capable of handling it, as she has not the class of horses to contend with. She galloped all the way in the stake, which was a sixteenth further than she is asked to go

She won so handly on that occasion that it seems impossible for any of the contenders to take her measure.

The Regent seems to be the contender and should be second. He ran a good race Saturday back of Commodore at a mile. He likes a distance of ground and should be able to beat the others. Extol should be third, on his good race yes-terday, when he was second to Pretension. He prefers a soft track to the good going which should prevail to-day, but it is hard to see how he can be worse than third. Lacy Crawford's last race was such a bad one that he must be passed up here.

In the first event it looks as if Belle S. hould win a purse for J. C. Milan on the eve of his marriage. In her last race she eve of his marriage. In her last race she met with a lot of interference, but finshed strong. Dorothy Dodd looks best for the place and Fay Sharp should be third. Verandah has been leading for a half, but, as he is an awful quitter, no consideration can be given to him.

Algonquin seems to have a good chance to capture the third race. She is a hardluck horse, but it looks as though she should certainly win to-day. The weight is a little too much for Evening Star, as she does not relish more than 185. Doctor Kier's early speed should land him in the place position, with the Gear mare third. Mindora ran a good race on his last out, and might be a bet to-day if there is a nice price laid against him.

Matt Wadleigh has not had an out since early in the Fair Grounds meeting, but if he is worth anything he seems to hold the field safe in the third event. This is a five and a half furlong dash for all ages. Nepenthe gets in light with 55 pounds and should be second, with Flora.

pounds and should be second, with Flora-Levy third.

In the fifth race Hucena ought to win a purse. The distance, a mile and seventy yards, is just to her liking and there is nothing much to beat. Flyer ought to be second and Dawson third. Noweta may spoil things, as she has had just about enough races to be good.

The gray gelding Worthington seems capable of landing the last event, at six and a half furlongs. Laura Hunter has the speed to be second and big Howling Dervish should get the third end of the money.

FRANK COLLINS'S ENTRY REFUSED

Trainer Givens Also Fined $100 936 for Racing Horse Without Blinkers-Bad Reversal of Form.

After winning the fourth race at Delmar yesterday. Frank Collins showed such marked and rapid improvement that Judge Murphy decided he should have no further opportunity to display his acrobatic feats on St. Louis tracks, and ordered that his entries be refused hereafter. J. B. Givens, trainer of Frank Collins, was fined $100 for running the horse without blinkers without permission of the judges.

Givens said that he had sent a boy to the judges' stand to ask permission to remove the blinkers, and that he presumed the permission had been granted, as the boy did not come back. The explanation did not seem sufficient to the judiciary and the ruling was allowed to stand.

On his last out. Collins could not get up galiop at any stage and was beaten sixty lengths. Yesterday he got off flying, and raced neck and neck with King Rose, the heavily played favorite, to the stretch turn. Then Collins steadily drew away and won by two lengths, eased up.

Aside from Collins's performance, the race seemed truly run. Mafalda was un-able to justify the short price laid against her, and Malster was left at the post, bolting just as the barrier was sprung.

bolting just as the barrier was sprung. King Rose, the favorite, ran his race, but Collins was a cup horse.

Violin, a well-played favorite, won the first in a romp. So conflient were the followers that they backed her from 7 to 19 to 13 to 30.

Felix Mozzes, favorite in the second race, won by himself, under double wraps. Tom Howe's race was good, but he could not get up to the flying Mozzes.

wraps. Tom Howe's race was good, but he could not get up to the flying Mozzes.

The consistent Pretension took the fifth race under a good ride from McLaughlin. Anne Davis, equal favorite with Pretension, cut a rapid pace for three quarters, when she went to pieces, and finished a coad last. Pretension lay on her quarters, until she tired, when he breezed home.

Mariin, the winner of the last race, opened at 8'to 5, but was neglected in the betting, and went to 3 to 1. He won easily from Miss Eon, who came with a determined, but belated, rush at the end.

Immediately after the last race, Chris Brockmiller bought in Marlin for $1.00. In the same event, Jockey Young was fined $25 for striking Cheatham with his whip.

to Farrell. Johnny hurriedly sent the ball toward third.

Moran, stressed for time, threw himself head foremost in a slide towards third base. The bail and runner arrived simultaneously. Shay pounced on the sphere, and in a flash pressed the ball against the prostrate form of Moran before the latter had reached the bag. The play was artistically executed and Shay was cheered for his lightninglike rapidity. The Browns were first to score, a base on balls to Burkett and Wallace's triple netting the American Leaguers a run.

Beckley's double to left and Smoot's single tied the score in the fourth. The teams then ran along until the tenth, with the score tied. Wilt two gone and Shay on base, Grady sent the bail for a homer, scoring two runs and winning the game.

The Browns tried hard in their half, but went out in order.

J. W. Midgley was the principal witness. He declared that the system of private ownership of cars "had the railroad companies firmly in its grasp" and was "one of the greatest powers ever known." Asked for a solution of the difficulty, Mr. Midgley suggested a per-diem system. "Put refrigerator cars on a per-dlem basis of 50 cents for so much weight," said he, "stock cars on a 59 cent basis and other cars on a 30-cent basie."
